

MANAGEMENT DEVELOPMENT PROGRAMME ON PROJECT MANAGEMENT (18 to 23 AUG 2025)

Faculty of Decision Sciences

College of Defence Management

cdm

Genesis

Managing complex defence projects be it in field of infrastructure, indigenization, MRO or R&D etc requires advanced planning skills especially with today's technological advances, globalization process and economic environment. Leading these projects are Project Managers, people who either intentionally or by situation are asked to ensure that a project team meets its goals.

Project Managers use many different tools, techniques and approaches to bring leadership and direction to projects. The MDP on Project Management is a one-week duration course specifically designed to equip the participants with understanding of project formulation, lifecycle, monitoring and control as well as using MS Project software. This is a unique course conducted only by CDM in the Armed Forces and will enhance the skillset of future military leaders in this vital discipline.

Aim

To provide adequate skills to effectively plan and monitor execution of large and medium size operational and administrative projects, using PM techniques.

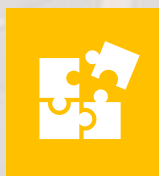

Course Objectives

To understand the nuances of project formulation

Develop and effectively use networks in scheduling, monitoring and controlling of projects and plans

Exploit PM Software and apply simulation techniques in project management
