

MDP ON ORGANISATIONAL BEHAVIOUR

Faculty of Strategic Management and Behavioural Sciences

Organisational Behaviour (OB) is the academic study of how individuals and groups interact within organisational settings. The principles of OB are applied primarily in attempts to make organisations operate more effectively.

Course Objectives

To enhance self-awareness through an exposure to contemporary concepts in organisational behaviour

To increase interpersonal effectiveness through understanding of complexities in relationships and application of contemporary tools and concepts related to same

Enhance leadership potential through an understanding of contemporary leadership concepts

Enhance human skills through an understanding of human behaviour and interpersonal relationships

Course Content

Self-concept & Personality

Basis of Human Behaviour

Culture, Values & Attitude

Emotional Intelligence

Communication

Leadership

Decision-making

Stress Management

Conflict & Dissent Management

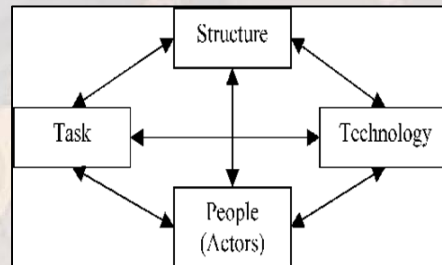

Negotiation

Creativity

Org Climate

Schedule for 2026

07-12 Sep 2026

This programme will be a journey towards understanding three interrelated levels of OB, viz, micro (the individual level), meso (the group level), and macro (the organisational level).

How to Apply

- Nominations through formations as per vacancy allotted.
- For Majors /Lt Colonel and equivalents of all three services, ther services.
- For additional information contact DS Coord, CDM at ds48.ids@gov.in

CDM Institutional Connects

Net Assessment Capsules & Projects at LBSNAA, NSCS

IIMs Faculty Exch

FDPs & MDPs, Indian School of Business

Eisenhower School (US)

Uzbekistan Armed Forces Academy

IPMA
Level 'A', 'B', 'C' & 'D'

international project management association

COLLEGE OF DEFENCE MANAGEMENT
SAINIKPURI
SECUNDERABAD
PIN 500094

<https://cdm.gov.in>

Telefax- +91-40-27115741/ +91-40-27111731